Innovation

Performance, Value and

As a recognised innovator, Walki is the perfect partner for companies looking for superior technical competence, excellent supply chain solutions and reliability.

Walki®Lid is the result of this process at work.

Sustainability

Walki is the leading and nearly sole supplier of paper-based lids for single-portion food packaging applications.

Walki®Lid is an innovative product tailored to offer value for the whole supply chain including brand owner and consumer.

Stands out on the shelf

Walki®Lid offers a superb printing surface capable of carrying the most demanding graphics produced by today's printing processes. This offers obvious opportunities for enhanced image and shelf-appeal to the final product when compared to using competitive lidding materials.

Puts a lid on leaks

The inherent strength and puncture resistance of Walki®Lid offers less breaks and leaks, resulting in less waste. This strengthens consumer confidence in the quality of the product and naturally improves retail profitability.

A pleasure to open

Walki®Lid is produced with a special sealing layer. This means consumers will find the lid provides pack integrity, all the way from the shelf to the point of consumption. What's more the lid is engineered to be easy to open at the appropriate time.

Environmentally sound

Environmental performance is a top corporate priority and Walki Group supports the principles of recovery, reuse and recycling wherever feasible. Walki®Lid is a fine case in point: consistent with the manufacturing approach at Walki Group, Walki®Lid is based on renewable raw material resources, ensuring that environmental impact is kept to a minimum.

What makes Walki®Lid good for the product and the brand?

1. Excellent printing properties for aesthetic appeal
2. Minimized breaks and leaks keeping the contents intact
3. Easy opening without compromising sealing properties
4. Based on renewable and recyclable raw materials
5. Not subject to the wild price fluctuations of aluminium

Innovation meets collaboration

Walki offers smart supply chain solutions to provide an excellent order to delivery process, specifically tailored to needs and developed in co-operation with our customers and suppliers.

Our open and co-operative style of working also offers our partners the opportunity to create exciting new solutions that are unique to your marketplace.

We do what we promise with a single sense of purpose: to make our partners' business processes smoother, more efficient and more profitable. We have your business covered!
